

Horizons of Perception by Barbara Bunce (CFPSS, 2003, ISBN: 0-902666-44-4.)

Our past president explains, 'this booklet attempts to show something of the reassuring, non-threatening way in which intimations of ... extra dimensions can be given and received. Truthful, often evidential witness from many people can only add to our understanding of the spiritual nature of our human constitution, confirming the faith of those who may be seeking such reassurance, and aiding the search for faith for those still seeking.' Barbara writes clearly and directly as a master of her material. Judiciously edited extracts give accounts of parasensory experiences of seeing, hearing, touching and scenting. Religious scentings, modern scientific developments and extracts from papers presented to the Ecumenical Conference on Christian Parapsychology are drawn together to present a powerful tract for our times. At 24 pages it is brief enough for anyone who reads it to clamour for a second volume. Buy several to give to friends and enquirers.
